

THE LEDGER.

E. M. WHITE, - - - EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR

THURSDAY, OCT. 6, 1887.

Mexico should have a fine course of lectures this winter.

It is time the Board of Trade was getting ready for business.

Mexico was well represented at the Cleveland reception in St. Louis.

A humane society would do a rushing business in this town just now.

Cleveland is delighted with Missouri and vice versa.

No President will ever be received as was Cleveland by Missouri.

Grand old St. Louis entertained her distinguished guests in royal fashion.

The Board of Trade has done much for Mexico and can do more.

Hon. D. R. Francis, of St. Louis, represented Missouri this week as few men could.

Mr. Ricketts, of Mexico, had command of the Audrain Co. Democrats in the Cleveland procession.

Great preparations will be made for the entertainment of the delegates to the anti-Horse Thief convention.

Ex-Gov. C. H. Harris, of Audrain county, was a prominent member of the Cleveland reception committee.

Cleveland is a grand man—Mrs. Cleveland is a grand woman—that is the way the arithmetic would express it.

Mr. J. S. Callaway, of Mexico, was one of the most enthusiastic Cleveland Democrats in St. Louis this week.

If Cleveland is nominated for President and Francis for Governor, Missouri will go unanimously Democratic.

No President will ever be more cordially or democratically received than was Cleveland by Missouri this week.

Warmer weather is predicted by the Signal service department, and with a late fall, good pasturage for several weeks is assured.

The Ringo & Nelson washing machine occupies a prominent place in the Exposition building in St. Louis, and is attracting a great deal of favorable attention.

A man who is officially, personally, socially and every other way either efficient or corrupt, should set himself up as the standard of virtue, morality, official faithfulness, etc., in any community.

Come to think of it, we wonder how everything passed off so smoothly in St. Louis this week without the assistance of the one or two plug politicians who run the alley sheet and the administration.

There is, we learn, one "lawyer" (?) in Mexico who claps his hands with joy when the members of the Mexican press are referred to by our contemporary as "hysterics." We presume he judges other people by himself.

Mr. Morris, the English aesthetic poet, is much disturbed because the Chicago Anarchists are to be hanged. The condemned men would rather hang, probably, than be compelled to read Morris' poems.

Old Jacob Sharp is strong enough to swear lustily at a disinterested physician who was deputed to ascertain the true condition of his health, but not strong enough to bear a journey to Sing Sing.

The doctors of medicine say that Jacob Sharp can safely be taken to Sing Sing, inasmuch as he is not in extremis. But the doctors of the law have compounded a prescription which will keep him out of Sing Sing for a few days.

An automatic attachment to a sewing machine is a new device which makes button-holes twenty times faster than they can be made by hand. Statistics show, however, that what we need is not more button-holes but more buttons.

A "Howard note" in a Boston paper says: "The prospects of the University for the year are excellent. The men are practicing daily at football and the tennis courts are well patronized." How could the outlook of a great educational institution be more satisfactory?

An Albany, N. Y., syndicate has been formed to encourage the extermination of the English sparrow. It desires to obtain 50,000 sparrows and will pay $1 per hundred for them. It is seldom that the prejudice against these little pests takes so practical shape. Perhaps a National Sparrow Trust might be formed with good results. The most extreme anti-monomaniac would not object to a "corner" on English sparrows.

The Democratic State Central Committee met in St. Louis Monday and all the districts were represented except the 4th. We saw the document prepared by the committee which unanimously endorsed Jasper Burks for Marshal of the Eastern District of Missouri. Cook & Co., who are running the administration in this part of the world, should now jump into Biggs, of Pike, who is the member of the committee from this district. From what we can learn no man was ever an applicant for office at the hands of any administration who has better endowments than Jasper Burks, not excepting S. B. Cook, who ran so hard for revenue collector and got what the little boy shot at, and has not been feeling well since.

"CLEVELAND WEATHER."

St. Louisans in High Spirits this Week—The Visit of the President.

Correspondence of the Ledger.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 4.—"It is glorious to live in an age like this and dwell in a land like ours."

I found this quotation in a copy of the Mexico DAILY LEDGER. I need scarcely add the name of the author, the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher. I was singularly struck with its appropriateness to the events now transpiring in our city. We have had much to make us rarely favored, especially when the pleasure culminates in the visit of our president and his wife among us. Everyman is talking of our glorious "Cleveland weather." The ever-varying tides of rain and gloom of last week have disappeared, and God's blessed sunshine floods all the city with brightness. The programme for his entertainment is a grand one, and the ovation he has received from the people is without a parallel in history. The crowning glory of it all was his visit to our Great Exposition, while the Fair Grammar and Jockey Club received their full share of honors. FAY.

Incidents of the Day.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 3.—Up to this morning the President was the guest of Mayor Francis, but to-day and to-morrow he belongs to the people. Fairer weather could not be asked. The skies were clear all day and the gentle north winds were sufficiently cool to make light overcoats desirable. The streets, cleansed by last night's shower, were free from dust, and everywhere along the line of the President's ride to the fair grounds were crowded to their utmost capacity.

The President's carriage, drawn by a quartette of richly caparisoned black horses and followed by five other carriages provided for his traveling companions and the local committee in charge, reached the Francis mansion in Vandeventer place a few minutes before 10 o'clock, and at 10:15 the President and Mrs. Cleveland appeared at the door of the mansion and were applauded by the crowd of ladies and children who had gathered in the park in front of the residence.

The Exposition building shortly after 8 o'clock and will be conducted through it by a committee of six directors. At or about 9 o'clock they will enter Music hall and will occupy the box on the right of the stage. Gilgore will use all his super-powers to add to and inflame the enthusiasm of the people.

REB ELECTED.

Commander-in-Chief Selected Late Yesterday Afternoon.

Special Dispatch to the Ledger.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 1.—Late last evening word was sent out from the Encampment hall that Judge John Rea had been elected Commander-in-Chief, as foreshadowed in the Ledger's dispatches of yesterday. The result was obtained on the first ballot.

Judge Rea got 291 ballots, 260 being necessary to elect. Gen. Slocum was a close second.

Senior Vice-Commander Nelson Coles, St. Louis; Junior Vice-Commander John C. Lunsford, New Hampshire.

Frightful Explosion.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 4.—At 7:45 o'clock yesterday morning the boilers of the Geo. P. Plant Milling Company's mill, at the corner of Chouteau avenue and Rialty street, exploded, demolishing the boiler-house and the engine-house, killing three men and one woman and injuring four men and one girl. Terrible as was the damage done by the flying fragments and the concussion, the explosion was more remarkable for the hairbreadth escape incident to it. What caused the explosion can not be determined definitely. The fireman who would be able to tell whether there was water enough in the boilers is dead. The explanation of the engineer is the best that can be obtained. Whatever the cause the explosion was certainly the most terrific that ever occurred in the city. The boiler-house was a one-story brick building on a stone foundation. It was fifty feet long. Two boilers, each 35 feet in length, occupied this space. The westward of these was a "Firmenich" boiler of 300 horse power. The second was a Babcock & Wilcox boiler of 250 horse power. Both boilers were said to be non-explosive.

A Bold Scoundrel.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 3.—Miss Rubick, residing at the corner of Sixteenth and Troost avenue, attended the Grand Avenue Church last evening, unaccompanied. Missing a Fifteenth street car, she started to walk home. While on Harrison street, between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets, a burly negro, who had followed her for some distance, knocked her down and attempted to drag her into an alley. Mr. T. Walker, who was walking about a half a block behind Miss Rubick, saw the brute strike her, and ran to her assistance. The negro relinquished his grasp on Miss Rubick and succeeded in making his escape. The assault was a very bold one from the fact that the streets full of people returning from church. The brute struck her in the back of the head. She was stunned at first, but not dangerously injured.

Honoring The Victor.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., Oct. 3.—Judge John P. Rea, of this city, the newly elected Commander-in-Chief of the G. A. R., will be tendered a grand reception upon his return home this evening.

Anonymous Journalism.

The Centralia Guard, speaking of anonymous journalism, says: "Some cowardly ignoramus, who was either ashamed or afraid to sign his name has circulated an anonymous circular headed: "Who will answer?"

The writer no doubt will have a chance to answer to his master, the devil, who was no doubt the instigator of this lying circular. It would be impossible to get more lies in so short a space. The cowardly assassin stays in the dark. The individual having a just cause, who is honest and sincere in his motives is not ashamed to attach his name to a document containing grave charges against officials and citizens."

September Weather.

The mean temperature for September at 7 a. m. was 61.30°; at 12 m., 78.73°.

On the 9th the mercury stood at 101°, the highest of the month; the lowest, 35° was on the 24th.

Total rainfall, 3.69 inches. Rain fell ten days. Thunder storms on the 23, 3d and 7th.

The only frost of the month, a light one, fell on the 24th.

BEAUTIFUL WEATHER.

Cleveland Greeted by Thousands of Enthusiastic Missourians.

Mrs. H. A. Ricketts.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 3.—The weather here to-day is all that could be desired. The sun is shining warmly, and underfoot as well as over head the day is almost a perfect one.

Mrs. H. A. Ricketts, of Mexico, has been appointed chief aide in the grand procession.

President's Sunday.

St. Louis, Oct. 3.—The President and Mrs. Cleveland attended religious services yesterday morning at the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church, at the southwest corner of Washington and Compton avenues. The announcement that the chief executive would probably attend that church served to bring out an immense audience of people.

At the conclusion of the service President and Mrs. Cleveland were introduced to Dr. Brooks and a few others, but hurried rapidly through the crowd to the Mayor's private carriage and were driven back to the latter's residence.

The Presidential party decided to go out for a drive through the parks in the afternoon. The Mayor and Mrs. Francis occupied the front seat of the vehicle and the President and Mrs. Cleveland the rear. The Mayor drove and led the way for the little driving party. It was intended to be a quiet drive, but it was in reality a grand ovation that lasted from the time the carriage left the door until it returned two hours later, as was Grand avenue in front of it.

The Presidential party will enter the Exposition building shortly after 8 o'clock and will be conducted through it by a committee of six directors. At or about 9 o'clock they will enter Music hall and will occupy the box on the right of the stage. Gilgore will use all his super-powers to add to and inflame the enthusiasm of the people.

THE PROPHET'S BALL.

Brilliant Gathering in Merchants Exchange Hall, St. Louis.

Special Dispatch to the Ledger.

St. Louis, Oct. 5.—The assemblage gathered in the grand hall of Merchants exchange St. Louis last night represented the beauty, the brains, the position and the wealth of the valley, and the presence of the most distinguished people who ever graced a St. Louis ball-room, the President of the United States, and his beautiful wife, made it, beyond all comparison, the greatest occasion in the social history of St. Louis, and one which those who were present will narrate to their children in years to come. The throng was most exclusive. The prophet had given imperative orders that none but the creme de la creme of society should be invited, in order that room might be made for distinguished visitors from other cities, and his commands were obeyed to the letter. None were there but those whose high position entitled them to the honor of being there. The costumes of those of interest to the people of Mexico are given below:

Mrs. S. B. Kiley, of Columbia—White tulle, silk, promenade length; Catherine Mermet corset; bouquet and diamond ornament.

Miss Alice Morris—A short dress of steel-blue satin duchesse, with pale blue overdress; bodice bejeweled, with sash and diamond ornaments.

Miss Belle Morris—Superb toilet, imported from Shanghai, China; the gown of cream brocade had draperies of point d'Alencon lace, and was made dancing length.

Mrs. B. M. White—White lace amber satin, made dancing length; V-necked, bordered in lace, and most exquisite diamond jewels.

Miss Blanche Hart—Handsome black silk and jet; corsage cluster of natural flowers.

Mrs. Tom Carter—Black silk covered with elegant guipure lace, the draperies held here and there by clusters of pale pink plumes, shaded from apple green to moss green, shaded velvet roses and long loops of apple-green ribbon. The corsage heart-shaped, with a half circle of ribbon and feathers to match the skirt, crossing from left to right.

Mrs. G. L. Ferris—Black silk profusely trimmed with jet and natural flowers, dancing length; diamond pany earrings.

Miss Katie Ferris—Exquisitely trimmed amber colored satin, skirt, dancing length; diamond ornaments the PAGEANT.

The annual grand Pageant of The Veiled Prophets, given last night, surpassed any that its mystic serenity has ever furnished for the edification of its devoted subjects. The theme chosen for illustration was one well understood by even the small children who witnessed it, and was well capable of being enlarged upon and beautified by the imagination in illustration, without danger of spoiling the effect. The crowd which attended the display could not possibly have been estimated, but was probably confined to 400,000 residents of the city, and to perhaps as many visitors. The Veiled Prophets grow more popular as their pageants grow more magnificent, and in proportion their visitors each year increase in number.

OFF FOR CHICAGO.

President Cleveland and his amiable wife departed from the city as they entered—amid the most enthusiastic cheers ever heard in St. Louis. Long before the hour set for their departure from the Union depot, crowds began flocking in that direction, and by 10:30 o'clock there was but little standing room in and about the depot. Crowds of men, women and boys pushed and jostled one another to reach a good point where they could view the Presidential party as they left their carriages for their special train. The handsome vestibule cars were admired by the immense crowd, and all agreed that nothing was too good for the President. The train left over the Chicago & Alton, and arrived in Chicago at 9 o'clock this morning. A special train carrying the Ironclad club of Chicago followed about thirty minutes after the Presidential party over the same road.

A Peculiar Disease.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 4.—A peculiar case of blood poisoning is reported from the farm of Henry Bowden, about six miles south of Kansas City, which has proved fatal to much of the live stock and has been communicated to the family. A fine bull was first afflicted with the disease. The animal's skin became perfectly raw in places, and when death ensued little of the hide remained. Several cows were similarly afflicted and a drove of hogs, having gorged themselves with the meat of the dead bull, also became diseased. A number of the hogs have died, and the whole herd is expected to succumb to the dread malady. Henry Bowden was taken down with the disease last Saturday. It began on his hands and ate the skin from his arms and then spread over his chest. He now suffers intense agony. A number of Kansas City physicians have been called to his bedside.

A Pugilistic Protector.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 4.—It was reported here to-day that Sands Hopkins, an eccentric young man worth several millions, who has figured extensively in numerous scrapes, had engaged a noted cowboy pugilist named Pete Hickman to accompany him to Europe under a formal contract to thrash any person offering a slight to Hopkins. Hopkins agreed to pay Hickman $10,000 if the fighting was well done during the trip, which will be quite extensive.

Sore Eyes.

The eyes are always in sympathy with the body, and afford an excellent index of its condition. When the eyes become weak and the sight is dim, it is an evidence that the system has become disordered by Scrophula, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best known remedy.

Scrophula, which produces a painful inflammation in the eyes, causes no suffering for a number of years. The advice of a physician is commenced when the eyes are sore, and I believe this medicine a short time will be completely cured.

My eyes are now in a splendid condition, and I am well and strong ever. Mrs. William Gage, Concord, N. H.

For a number of years I was troubled with sore eyes, and was unable to obtain any relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has effected a complete cure, and I believe it to be the best of blood purifiers.

From childhood, and until within a few months, I have been afflicted with Weak Sore Eyes, and have used for my complaints, with beneficial results, Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and consider it a great blood purifier. Mrs. C. Phillips, Glover, Vt.

I suffered for a year with inflammation in my left eye. Three ulcers formed on the cornea, and I was nearly blind, and causing great pain. After trying many other remedies, to no purpose, I was finally induced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and

By Taking three bottles of this medicine, have been entirely cured. My sight has been restored, there is no sign of inflammation, sore, or ulcer in my eye.—Kendall T. Rice, Sage Tree Ridge, Okla.

My daughter, ten years old, was afflicted with Scrophulous Sore Eyes. During the last two years she has been almost blind, and has been unable to attend school. Physicians have been consulted, but without success. On the recommendation of a friend I purchased a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and she commenced taking it. Before she had used the third bottle her sight was restored, and she can now attend school. Her cure is complete. —W. E. Evans, Evangelist, Shelby City, Ky.
